A WOMAN in Bristol, Bucks county, undertook to get rid of a litter of kittens by burying them under a manure heep in the garden. A., who had the woman arrested and fined.

ON Monday morning last, a daughter of Mr. Wakefoos, aged 14 years, who resides near Bedford Springs, was horribly burned by the explosion of a can of oil. She was starting a fire in the stove, and after lighting the kindling, attempted to pour coal oil from the can into the stove. Dr. Danaher, the attending physician, says that her body was blistered from the crown of her head to the soles of her feet. She died shortly after.

A PHŒNIXVILLE correspondent writes: At No. 3 blast furnace, of the Phœnix Iron Co., which has been damped up near four months, an unsuccessful attempt has been made for a week to get it [illegible]. The first person mentioned was named James Welsh, and he was a conductor upon the 5th Harrisburg [illegible] freight train west—the one on which his body was found—and the second was Robert McClarren, the flagman of the same train. These two men evidently were standing upon the top of the cars engaged in conversation, when they were simultaneously struck by the overhead bridge near Wayne Station. Welsh was killed outright, and McClarren injured so badly about the head that it is feared that he cannot recover.

NEW YORK.

The Late Scandal Trial.

Mr. Beecher Accepts the Result as His Vindication.

Mr. Beach Considers It "as Good as a Verdict for Six Cents."

How Mrs. Beecher Received the Jury.

NEW YORK, July 3, 1875.

The Tilton-Beecher Case.

In regard to the Tilton-Beecher trial, Mr. Pearsall, of the counsel for Tilton, today said he could give no information in regard to further movements in the case, and returned the same answer to a specific inquiry as to the truth of the report that an attempt would be made by Mr. Tilton to have General Tracy indicted for perjury.

Mr. Shearman said he believed there was no foundation for the report that measures would be taken for the arrest of Moulton in connection with the Loeder-Price affidavits.

Mr. Beach says the disagreement is as good as a verdict for six cents, which was all that was ever aimed at, inasmuch as it shows Tilton has relieved himself of the calumny and aspersion that found early vent in Plymouth church circles, in the investigating committees and in the Bacon letter.

Mr. Beecher looks upon the result of the trial as giving him all the vindication it was in the power of the Court to give. For his chief vindication he looks to the future. "I am," said he, "good for twenty years' work yet, and before that is done the malice will have spent itself, ignorance will have become informed, and misconceptions of character will be corrected." Being asked what he thought of the malignity of some of his ministerial brethren, Beecher made many excuses for their conduct, but added: "If I strike back, I shall never strike but once. I don't want to quarrel, and I shan't if I can avoid it; but I do not by any means propose to be led like a lamb to the slaughter."

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher were at their home on Columbia Heights this morning. As early as eight they were required to receive the congratulations of visitors, and until lunch time there was little intermission of hand-shaking and friendly talk.

How the Jury Stood.

For Beecher.—Messrs. Carpenter, Case, Fitter, Holstead, Hull, McMyrn, Taylor, Thyer and Whelen.—9.

For Tilton.—Messrs. Davis, Flake and Jeffrey.—3.

Inquiry of a majority of their number established beyond a doubt that their first and last ballot stood 9 for Mr. Beecher and 3 for Mr. Tilton.

At one time the two last named jurors voted for Mr. Beecher, but Mr. Jeffrey held out persistently. The differences grew wholly out of questions of veracity of witnesses, the majority discrediting Mr. Tilton, and considering Mr. Moulton not worthy consideration.

An Exciting Incident.

After Judge Neilson had discharged the jury, Mr. Henry Thyer, the fourth juryman, who had previously indicated his wish to speak, sprang to his feet, and having attracted the attention of the Court, began in quick and indignant tones to state that he wished it understood that the jury did not stand eleven to one, as had been reported in the papers. He added that one juror had stood against the other eleven in the opinion that they might agree if longer kept out of Court, but that they stood so on the question of guilt or innocence of Mr. Beecher was not true. This little speech created great excitement for the moment, and nine-tenths of those who heard it at once concluded that, contrary to all the indications observed during the trial and while the jury were confined, Mr. Thyer was in favor of Mr. Tilton. While thus wondering, the crowd were still further mystified at seeing Mr. Thyer, the moment the jury were discharged, press forward and grasp Mrs. Beecher's hand, saying as he did so:

"Mrs. Beecher, let me shake your hand, if you please." He grasped her hand warmly, released it, and meanwhile looking on in amazement. The rumor to which Mr. Thyer alluded had reached the jurors' ears through the loud cries of a newsboy who had mistakenly called out, "Eleven for Tilton; one for Beecher." Mr. Thyer's indignation was based on the supposition that the public believed that the jury had stood a large majority in favor of Mr. Tilton.

Mrs. Beecher's Levee.

Mr. Thyer had, in grasping the hand of Mrs. Beecher in his momentary enthusiasm, set an example which most of the jury hastened to follow, few of them displaying Mr. Thyer's warmth and feeling, yet all of those who approached Mrs. Beecher indicating their deep respect and admiration. The long table which had been devoted during the trial to the use of the defendant's lawyers was between Mrs. Beecher and the jurors as she stood to receive their salutations; and across this they stretched their arms to reach her hand. Many of them spoke a few words and received brief responses from Mrs. Beecher, but in the crowd and confusion these could not be caught with certainty. Mr. Flate was the only one of the jurors voting for Mr. Tilton who approached Mrs. Beecher, and he asked, "Mrs Beecher, will you not shake hands with me?" in a tone which indicated how he stood in the division of the jury. Mrs. Beecher's immediate reply to him could not be caught by the reporter, though it was seen that she gave him her hand hesitatingly. Afterward she said she did not think that Mr. Flate could have had the impertinence to speak to her if he had voted against her husband. Mr. Davis had gone out before the handshaking had begun, and had no opportunity to offer his salutation if he had so desired; but Mr. Jeffrey, who was present when it began, avoided contact with the lady, as indeed with everybody else, and left both the court-room and the city without delay. The Judge had suggested to the jury to sit still for a moment after they had been discharged, that the photographer in the gallery might portray the historic scene, but Mr. Jeffrey hastily objected, declaring he had no time to spare even to have his picture taken, and thus the photographer was disappointed. Subsequently the example set by Mr. Thyer in his salutation of Mrs. Beecher extended to the audience, and the lady was soon surrounded by a throng who pressed forward with remarks appropriate and inappropriate to the occasion, but all evidently meant to indicate the utmost respect and regard for Mrs. Beecher. This crowd grew so large and pressed so closely about the ladies, that Mrs. Beecher complained of the heat and closeness of the room, when instantly the crowd fell back and a way was made for her to the court room door. The other ladies and their escorts followed, and Mrs. Beecher thus attended left the court room, let it be hoped for the last time.

NEW YORK July 4, 1875.

Not a British Vessel.

The yacht Octavia, which was seized by the Collector at this port on suspicion that she was about to sail with munitions of war for the Cubans, has been declared not a British vessel by the British Vice Consul. The captain of the Octavia at the time of the seizure ran up the English flag and claimed its protection. The Octavia was built in 1864 at Cleveland, Ohio, as a sailing yacht, and in the following year was changed to a steam yacht by her late owner, Mr. T. W. Kennard, of this city. It is reported in Spanish circles that she is now going to fly the Honduras flag.

Geatry. Collector Malloy, of the Fourth District of Texas, seized a large distillery some days ago in the woods of Harrison county, Texas, and arrested Walton and George Godfrey, its proprietors. It was a peach brandy and whisky distillery. It had never in any way conformed with the law.

To-morrow will be celebrated here as the Fourth. The Merchants and Cotton Exchanges will be closed and business generally suspended.

LETTER FROM MISSOURI.

The Constitutional Convention—Exemption of Church Property from Taxation—The Common School Question—Closing Exercises of Lincoln Institute.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette:

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., June 28, 1875.

THE CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION, which has been in session at this place for near two months, calculates on closing its labors by the first of August. Whether it does, may depend on whether its work is completed, for it is to be hoped that the foolish scribblers, who undertake hurrying up, will have no influence. The getting [illegible] as soon as promised is particularly [illegible] fact that the present Con[illegible] explained by the [illegible] clauses [illegible] stitution, after the disfranchis[illegible] were removed, is a very good one. This is shown by the growing popularity, as well as by the very few changes that will be made. What has been done up to the present time is nothing but a remodeling and modification of the strong attachment to the Union expressed in the Bill of Rights and the giving up the Legislative power of exemption of property from taxation in the interest of the Catholic Church. The proposed changes are of a doubtful character, to say the least, and will not tend to aid adoption by the people. An attempt to secure the right of revolution by a Constitutional provision failed, and the first modification, eliminating the expression of strong attachment to the Union and substituting, if anything, a stronger declaration in favor of State Rights, was to mollify a Southern spirit, still strong and aggressive. Thus the right of self-destruction is covered under the guise of State Rights.

The Catholic Church has been so faithful an adherent to the rebellion and Democracy that it deserves the recognition it has obtained by the second modification, for that Church alone owns an amount of property, making exemption of it an object, while the poorer Protestant Churches feel indifferent about it. How any one, or anybody of reasonable mind, can overlook the fact that exempting church property from taxation is taxing the rest of the property for the benefit of the exempted, is hard to see, and still more difficult to comprehend how such exemption can be made to harmonize with the doctrine that the State shall not tax in aid of Churches; or a separation of Church and State. The representation clause, on account of which the more popular counties supported the call for a Convention, has been settled against them, and if anything, made more inequitable, still further strengthening the influence of the sparsely populated counties. The judicial machinery has been enlarged, and from other signs we are authorized to infer that our Government, under the proposed Constitution, will be one on a larger, that is, more extended scale. As the expenses will be correspondingly enlarged, it is doubtful whether the people, under present circumstances, will accept the gift without hesitation. On the school question the Convention is right, the adherents of our common schools taking the ground that in the face of an active, unscrupulous enemy, it will not do to give way. The only possible danger is a limitation on the levy of the tax for school purposes, for if unreasonable limits were placed on it, we might find ourselves in the condition of the man who was in favor of a temperance law, but against its execution. No such limitation is, however, looked for by the friends of education.

THE LINCOLN INSTITUTE,

a school of the grade of Fisk University and Hampton, and doing the same work for the colored people of this State, closed last week, among the rejoicing of its friends, on account of the progress made. Connected with this school the State has established and supports a normal department, and greater attention is just now paid to the preparation of teachers than anything else. It is not so much defects in the law as our execution of the same which are complained of. The colored people are largely remaining in the localities where they were held as slaves. There is no inclination here to aid in the carrying into effect of the law, and as the colored people themselves cannot reasonably be expected to handle a complicated system such as the school law—neglect is the consequence. To supply an evident want is the object of the Lincoln institute. Men and women, morally and mentally fitted for and understanding the work, it seeks to supply. In order to accomplish the object fully the students in the normal department are instructed in and made acquainted with the school law of the State; the manner in which it is carried into effect, taught civil government and the ideas underlying them, their practical working, in fine, all necessay to fit them for the work they are to perform. They are taught their rights; but at the same time the distinction between the possessing of a right and insisting on its recognition is pointed out, so that the students of Lincoln Institute shall carry peace and good will to and for all into every neighborhood they shall enter. The men engaged in forwarding the work are old missionaries, many of them former slaveholders. They are thoroughly acquainted with the true interest of the people of the State. The Board of Trustees is made up of the Governor, Superintendent of Public Instruction of the State, and others who feel a deep interest in the work, and labor unceasingly for its success. The unusual visitation we had to endure has been a drawback on this as on other work, especially on this, for the hardness of the times affected the colored class more than any other; notwithstanding, the work is going forward aided by the benevolent of the Eastern and Middle States. The time will come when such aid shall become unnecessary. Now it would suffer without it. OCCASIONAL.

The Last Days of the Court—Closing Up the List—A Presentation.

WILLIAMSPORT, PA., July 2, 1875.

CLOSING UP.

In the District Court no business was transacted excepting hearing a few motions, after which Judge McCandless adjourned the Court.

In the Circuit Court the plaintiff in the case of Warren vs. Mercur took a non-suit. The case of Henry S. Shaffer for the Germania Insurance Company of New York, and the Glensfalls Insurance Company of the same city, vs. the Pennsylvania Railroad Company operating the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad, was taken up. The plaintiff alleges that by the negligence of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company an oil train burnt at Cameron county on the morning of the 27th of January, 1870, which caused the destruction of Shaffer's building, and the insurance company named had to pay the amount that the house was insured for. This is the last case on the list, and after a jury had been empanneled the rest of jurors were discharged from further duty. The case will probably take until Saturday morning.

FLOWERS AND CHAMPAGNE.

A very pleasant affair took place in room 48 of the Herdic House, the headquarters of the Pittsburghers, last evening. The Pittsburghers of the hotel had been excellently treated by the gentlemanly clerks, Messrs. Frank Deitrick, Sam. J. McMullen and O. B. Welsh, that they desired to give them a slight token of their regard. A beautiful flower basket about two feet high and 18 inches wide, containing growing plants in a rustic frame, was procured, and the clerks invited to the room, when the presentation was made by Mr. Elliott Anderson, in behalf of the Pittsburghers. The recipients were greatly astonished, but soon recovered their wonted self-possession, and thanked the donors kindly and in a neat and well-timed address. Mr. Detrick, a young man, made a splendid address, giving evidence of a culture and a great deal of ability. A champagne supper wound up the proceedings. JUROR.

WILLIAMSPORT, July 3, 1875.

The case of the Glensfalls and Germania Insurance Companies of New York against the Pennsylvania Railroad operating the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad was given to the jury at 9 o'clock Saturday. After an absence of three hours the jury returned to the court room and informed the Court that it was an impossibility for them to agree, whereupon they were discharged by Judge Strong. This closed jury trials for this term, and the argument list will be taken up Tuesday, which will probably occupy the attention of the Court during the rest of the week. JUROR.

Landis, of Lebanon, a respectable and substantial man, possessed of considerable means, has been missing since the evening of May 12th, having been last seen in Mount Joy, Lancaster county, on that day, with a very large sum of money in his possession. Suspicion of foul play was aroused by his sudden and unexplained absence from his family and friends, while others intimated that he had absconded. It is now pretty well established that he was murdered, although his body has not been found. Three young men of Lancaster county have been arrested on suspicion.

There was an immense crowd present at Exhibition Place to-night for the distribution of the prizes. The Lord Mayor of Dublin presided and distributed the prizes, which included badges for each member of the American team. The Lord Mayor, Major Leech and Sir James Mackey made speeches, congratulating the Americans on their victory. Major Leech said the victory would serve as an additional tie between the two countries.

Col. Gildersleeve responded. He thanked the Lord Mayor and all others in Dublin and Ireland generally for the warm hospitality and generous applause that had been accorded his countrymen, and assured them that the occasion would never be forgotten by the Americans.

At the conclusion of his remarks he presented an elegant cup of American silver and manufacture, to be shot for annually by the Irish riflemen. The gift was enthusiastically received. BY MAIL.

Additional Account of the Earthquake at Cucuta.

NEW YORK, July 4.—Mail advices from Barranquilla, United States of Colombia, bring additional accounts of the destructive earthquake at Cucuta. The story of the catastrophe is confirmed in all its horrible details. A private letter, dated Salazar, May 25th, says the number of dead is calculated at three-quarters of the entire population. The few families which are saved are now on the outskirts of what was the city, living on what they can procure; but they will soon be obliged to retire, as the putrefaction of the dead will not allow them to remain. It is heartrending to see wounded who can have no care, and who cannot remain in their present condition. Four hundred mules were killed in the streets, and as there is no one to remove them the stench is becoming frightful.

The villages of San Cristobal, Tarina, Guasimo, Capacho, San Antonio, Labatera, San Juan de Ureña, Rosario and San Cayetano are completely destroyed. The storehouse of Puerto de los Rachoo was sacked and burned by bandits.

Another letter says such was the violence of the shock that not a single house remained standing, and monuments in the cemetery were thrown down and many of them moved a considerable distance from their original position. In thirty seconds the city of Cucuta was converted into a mass of ruins. The horrible blow resulted in the death of more than 10,000 persons in addition to other thousands who were seriously wounded and bruised. Great numbers of haciendas have been destroyed and hundreds of houses in the country overthrown, leaving the people homeless and consigned to poverty. Many of the trees were torn up from the roots, and small hills were opened like a melon.

The cause of the great catastrophe is, of course, unknown; also the precise place of its first manifestation. Some suppose that the volcano of Sobatera, which was in action in 1848, is again breaking out, while others say that a new volcano has appeared in the hills of Giracha. It is thought the Government will appoint a scientific commission to investigate the nature of the catastrophe.

A private letter from Bucaramauga, of May 24, says: In Peidecusta, the town hall is destroyed, and in Pamplona the cathedral is in ruins.

A telegram from Hon. Aquilee Parva to President Perez, dated Bucaramanga, May 24, says: The earthquakes continue. Last night the cathedral in Pamplona fell. There is great alarm and great devastation throughout the valley of Cucuta.

A dispatch to President Perez from Chinacota, of May 24, says: The population of San Jose, Rosaris and San Cayetano have disappeared. The rest of the department is in ruins. There are more than 4,000 victims.

A dispatch from Socorro, dated May 24, says the situation is assuming a grave aspect, and sickness and starvation in Pamplona are increasing.

A telegram from Chiqimquira, of May 22, says the shocks are repeating. There were two last night and one to-day. There is great alarm among the people. Appeals for help were being circulated through all the cities of Colombia, and most liberal responses were being made.

The Races at Columbus—The Fastest Time on Record in a Hurdle Race.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 3.—The largest crowd of the week attended the races today. In the first, a running race, Visigoth took the first heat in 1:45, and was then drawn on account of lameness. Add second, Granger third. Add took the next two heats in 1:47 and 1:46, Worcester second, Granger third.

The two-mile dash, over eight hurdles, was a very exciting contest. The race was handsomely taken by Captain Hutchinson; time 3:50. It is claimed that this is the fastest time on record with the weights up.

The 2:45 trot for $1,000 was won by Phebe C., in three heats; time 2:39½, 2:39¼, and 2:36; Captain Jack second, Thornton third.

Pedestrianism.

CHICAGO, July 3.—O'Leary, at 10:46 this morning, completed his hundredth mile, and took an hour's rest. He was then ahead of time and confident of accomplishing the remaining distance within the specified time.

Evening.—O'Leary to-night failed to complete his task of walking one hundred and fifty miles in thirty-two hours. He stopped when he had accomplished one hundred and thirty-one and a half miles, having then only forty-five minutes in which to make eighteen and a half miles. He has during the walk made a hundred miles in nineteen hours and forty-three minutes. He was taken sick to-day and walked under great difficulties, the weather being unfavorable and the floor being uneven. He rested in all four hours and three minutes.

The Proposed Investigation of Affairs at the Red Cloud Agency—Letter From Prof. Marsh.

NEW HAVEN, CONN., July 14.—The Palladium of to-morrow morning will contain the following letter from Prof. O. C. Marsh:

YALE COLLEGE, July 3.—Hon. E. P. Smith, Commissioner of Indian Affairs—Dear Sir: I have received your letter of the 1st inst., informing me of the appointment of Hon. A. H. Bullock, of Massachusetts, Hon T. C. Fletcher, of Missouri, and Hon. George. W. Lane, of New York, as a committee to investigate the affairs at the Red Cloud Agency. I have as yet received no communication from the gentlemen named, but I will at once proceed to prepare a detailed statement embodying the evidence on this subject now in my possession, a copy of which I will with pleasure lay before the committee so soon as they inform me that they have organized and are ready to act.

Very truly yours, C. C. MARSH.

BOSTON.

Centennial Celebration of Washington Assuming Command of the Continental Army.

BOSTON, July 3.—The Centennial celebration of Washington assuming command of the Continental army was celebrated at Cambridge to-day. Flags and bunting were liberally displayed and many private dwellings elaborately decorated. National salutes were fired at sunrise and at sunset. Bells were rung and points of historic interest denoted by appropriate inscriptions. The streets were thronged. The exercises of the day consisted of a poem by James Russell Lowell, and an oration by Professor Peabody, of Harvard College.

A prominent feature at the dinner was a poem by Oliver Wendell Holmes. Speeches were made by Governor Gaston, Senator Boutwell, Gen. Devin and others. The evening fireworks and illuminations prevailed.

PHILADELPHIA.

Meeting of Workingmen—A Number of Changes Demanded.

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—At a meeting of workingmen in Independence Square tonight resolutions were adopted favoring the organization of co-operative societies, to be aided by the Government; that no charter should be granted except on the principle of dividing the surplus after paying expenses and the interest on the capital invested among all employes in proportion to their earnings; the retracing of steps leading to forced specie payment, and the substitution of full legal tender paper currency, making the rate of interest the measure of its volume; demanding the punishment of corruptionists and embezzlers in high positions, and appealed to President Grant to cut loose from the money changers who have of late controled his action. Speeches were made in both English and German.

COLUMBUS.

Two Men Stabbed by a Rough—Struck by Lightning.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 4.—During a bar room fight to-night, Peter Frutt, a well known rough, who has a record of blood, stabbed James Turner, colored, in the bowels, causing his intestines to fall out, and probably fatally injuring him. While running to avoid arrest, Trutt also stabbed Robert McCrudle, another colored man, who was in no way connected with the row, seriously injuring him.

During a thunder storm to-day the lightning struck the Hoge church, doing slight damage. It tore a house open and struck Alexander McMullin, a railroad man. The bolt struck McMullin in the back of the head, passing arcund his body and down his right leg, stunning and burning him severely.

Indians Stealing Horses in Nebraska.

OMAHA, NEB., July 3.—A small party of Indians stole two horses from ranchman Young on the Little Popaigie. They were followed by citizens and soldiers of Co. D, Second Cavalry, who, after a hard chase, caught up with the Indians, killed two and recaptured the horses.

THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.

The indications are that the day we celebrate will pass off without much excitement. In the way of patriotic demonstration, all that will be done, will come from the effervescent patriotism of individuals acting alone—as there is to be no public demonstration by the military or civic authorities. The juvenile fraternity is almost unconsolable at the cruel edict forbidding pyrotechnic displays, and there is some slight danger of a revolt in that direction; but otherwise all will be quiet. The only public demonstration of any kind will be the parade of the Catholic Societies which takes place this morning at ten o'clock. The Societies have been preparing for this for some time, and a fine display will be made.

The only public amusement in town will be given by Duprez & Benedictis Minstreis. They will give two performances—one in the afternoon and one in the evening—at the Opera House. This is a first-class minstrel company, and as the "Fourth" is pre-eminently a day of glee, these entertainments will undoubtedly be largely patronized by all who love a good laugh once in a while, and believe it to be a good appetizer and health preserver.

For the folks who desire to spend the day amid green and shady nooks, the groves will be the attraction. There are picnics, public and private almost innumerable. There is no lack of enjoyment in this direction, and the pic-nically inclined, can enjoy the sport to its fullest extent.

There will also be "excursions" on the railroads for those who would spend the day in that manner. Excursion tickets have been issued over all the railroads, and the pleasure seeker has his choice of many routes. One of these excursions which promises to be very enjoyable is that to Ohio Pyle Falls, on the Connellsville Railroad, arranged by the General Passenger Agent Hough. This combines an excursion over the road, and a day of piscatorial pleasure. Last year five hundred people attended such a picnic, and this year the affair promises to be equally successful.

Thus, if the day is spent rather more quietly than has been the custom in some other years, it will undoubtedly be spent more enjoyably, and its memories will be attended with more that is pleasant to recall.

BONDS at Frankfort 98⅞.

PETROLEUM at Antwerp 25⅙.

GOLD closed in New York Saturday at 117⅛.

TO-DAY being generally observed as a holiday, no paper will be issued to-morrow from this office.

PRESIDENT GRANT, out of deference to the popular will, has ordered this day, the 5th, to be celebrated for the Fourth. The various Departments, Navy Yards, etc., will be closed to-day.

THE reports from the French inundations grow worse and worse. It is now stated that the loss of life will reach three thousand persons, and of property $60,000,000. The list of subscriptions for the alleviation of suffering now amounts to $150,000.

THE New York dailies begin to look like pictorial papers; each issue having about a page taken up with some illustration or other. The Herald appears to lead in the race for pictorial fame, closely followed by the sober old Tribune. It is probably a cheap way of filling up space, now that the dog days make dull writing monotonous.

THE pruning knife is still vigorously applied in the Treasury Department. The new Treasurer—Mr. New—takes hold of the affairs of his office with a degree of rigor which promises an effective administration. If he shall serve so long and so well as his immediate predecessor—Mr. Spinner—and leave behind him so good a name when he retires, the country and he can both be congratulated.

HON. S. J. KIRKWOOD, of Iowa, was one of the successful war Governers, and he is again brought forward by the Republicans to fill the Gubernatorial chair. He is very popular, and will be elected by an old-timed majority. It is expected that he will then be sent to the United States Senate, when the duties of the office of Governor will be fulfilled by the Lieut. Governor on the same ticket.

LITTLE SWITZERLAND comes promptly forward in the matter of our Centennial celebration. The National Council have voted $5,000 to defray the expenses of a fitting representation of Swiss products and industry. Russia now, of all the larger European powers, alone declines to participate, and we had good reason to think, from the past relations of the two nations, that she would be among the first to respond.

THE arrest on the Mexican border of the irrepressible General Cortina, by Colonel Mannel Parra, of the Mexican Cavalry, and his imprisonment, is likely to give the Government forces all they want to do, in retaining him and keeping down the mob. As Cortina has many devoted followers, all bent on booty, doubtless the forces in Matamoras may be overcome and the prisoner rescued. The times on the border look threatening.

IN England, a man named John Downs was lately tried and convicted of manslaughter, for causing the death of his son, aged two years, by neglecting to provide proper medical attendance. The boy died of inflammation of the lungs, and, in the opinion of medical men, his life might have been saved if proper remedies had been applied. The jury which convicted him recommended the passage of a law to compel parents to provide medical advice and attentions in cases of serious illness of their children. Can in be that there is any necessity for such a law? Or would it be stronger than the law of nature?

MORE defeats of the Carlists in Spain are reported from Sanish official sources, which are not the most reliable authority at all times. These Carlists must surely be possessed of nine lives, like the cats, or else their numbers must be much greater than Spanish officials have led us to believe. These same bands have been so often defeated and dispersed, if not killed outright, by the Spaniards, that they spring to life again like magic. If they number but an insignificant few, Spain should long ago have put them down effectually. With the Carlists at home, and the Republican insurgents in Cuba, the Dons have quite enough to keep them busy.

ONE of the most noteworthy features of the celebration of the Fourth of July this years is, that so many of the southern cities have made preparations to honor the day in an unusual manner. For a number of years the South has virtually ignored Independence Day, or observed it only to foster the sectional spirit. It is one of the good signs of the era of reconciliation upon which we are now supposed to have entered, that a change has been inaugurated, and the programmes of this year, so far as we have seen, are of a patriotic and national character. An occasional unreconstructed fossil, like Toombs, or Semmes, endeavors to revive the bitter feelings of the past, but it is pleasant to believe that such men have lost their power and influence.

IT is mentioned by travelers that the influence of America abroad is second to no power in the world. In no way is this more apparent than among the people of all foreign countries. The large number of tourists from this country, who find their way into every land, and among all classes of people, spending immense sums of money annually, makes such impressions abroad that are not generally overcome by the combined influence of all other countries. America forms the chief foreign element in all European cities, and it is not to be wondered at that the impressions made by them should outweigh those of other lands. It is to this, probably, more than to any other one cause that the United States and their people, with their institutions and customs, are generally better known and appreciated than those of any other foreign country.

THE Philadelphia Times—Colonel Alex. McClure's paper—advises the Democracy of that city to accept some of the candidates placed in nomination by the Republicans, adding: "It would be a most graceful tribute to personal worth in a candidate for a non-political office, for the Democrats to decline to make a nomination against him." We agree with the Times, but think it stops a little short of the proper mark. It ought to recommend the election of the whole Republican ticket, if it believes what it says of the efforts of the Democracy, viz.: "The Democrats of Philadelphia are expected to make their local nominations on the 12th inst., and a system of log-rolling and huckstering has developed itself within the last few weeks. It is well understood that desperate struggles have been made to have particular conventions organized in individual interests, regardless of popular opinion, and that such efforts have been at least reasonably successful. The result of such management can be but disaster with dishonor."

Why not then scout the entire batch and save yourselves from disaster and dishonor?

WE find the following in the correspondence of the Inter-Ocean from Lincoln, Nebraska:

"Why are so many men reported idle in Eastern States and cities, while here not a man is to be found unemployed? The hoppers have left and a most bountiful harvest is nearly ready, with not half enough help to cut it, owing to so many leaving the State last year when our crops were destroyed. There has been much more fright and talk than real damage, which was done in isolated places, and though the writer has suffered to some extent, still I am unable, on strict inquiry, to hear of a single farm being entirely stripped, and the real damage is but a mere trifle of the whole, though some cases are bard indeed."

And this from Iowa:

"The crops in this part of Iowa are just splendid. The only fear is that the straw will be so large that it will lodge. We have just had a heavy rain, which was needed. Corn is in a splendid stand. We want thousands of industrious citizens to fill our county. The inducements are rich soil, cheap lands, plenty of timber, no crop failures, no hoppers, no chinch bugs, good schools and churches, and we believe in the Republican party, and are happy."

IT IS a curious fact, that while Democratic organs are preaching to the people, and gulling some on the necessity of turning out all Republican officials, and substituting in their places those of Democratic professions, in the interest of economy and reform, everywhere that Democracy gains power the extravagance and municipal expenses gradually, but surely, increase. It is the case with New Orleans, as we have shown; it was true of Detroit, where the entire Democratic list of office-holders was recently replaced with sound Republicans. The same is found in Cincinnati, as we recently proved, and we now call attention to the city of New York, where every municipal officer, from Mayor down, is a Democrat. When the Legislature was Republican in that State, it cut down salaries in the city of New York to $5,171,845; now, according to official statements signed by its Democratic Mayor, the annual salary list amounts to $9,564,931, an increase in three years of over $4,000,000 per annum. Can any argument be stronger than this to prove the utter absurdity of electing Democrats to office with a view to effecting retrenchment and reform? If we look at the expenses of the last session of the House, at Harrisburg, largely Democratic, the same truth will be found, where reckless mismanagement, coupled with gross and inexcusable extravagance, was the record made. Good friends,—if you would have reform,—stand by the Republican party, and insist that good material shall be nominated and elected to office. Put no faith in Democracy, for the record is against them.

OUR NATIONAL ANNIVERSARY.

The annual recurrence of this interesting historical day appears to be growing, with each year, more and more celebrated and enjoyable by all classes of our patriotic people. As time passes away, and the events of our revolutionary period grow dim to the memory of those who listened to the fearful recital from a patriot sire's knee in the long ago time, the recollections of those stirring "times that tried men's souls"—having been perpetuated through history and cotemporaneous writings—are graven on the memory of our youngest school boy, and become to him a lesson of patriotism and a talisman of pleasure. There is something grand and beautiful in the scene which Independence Day presents to the mind. From grandsire to the lisping infant, all restraints of business or other cares are thrown aside, and the heart is given up wholly to rollicking enjoyment. From one end of the country to the other the feeling is indulged in, and for the time being nothing else is thought of but a devotion, each for himself, to his peculiar taste of celebrating the natal day of the Nation. This is as it should be, and every encouragement should be given the youth to join in these National festivities. The influence upon their minds cannot but be beneficial, as their patriotic ardor is lighted up through the recollections and the celebrations of the struggles of our forefathers that we might be a free people. These celebrations should be extended until they embraced the scholars of every school and Sabbath class throughout the land.

And while the children are giving the day wholly up to festivities and pleasure, it might not come amiss for those older to lend the mind to the events of history, brought up for reflection by a comparison of our own loved country with those which lived and flourished away back among the dim and dark ages of the misty past. While we, in another year, will celebrate, with becoming display, our first Centennial, let us for a moment reflect upon the Republics and Monarchies which have grown, lived and perished from earth in the ages that are gone, and briefly endeavor to draw the lesson taught, of how to live so that our whole duty may be done to our country, and thereby its institutions may be perpetuated through centuries to come.

The great Spartan law-giver, Lycurgus, who lived and ruled about 850 B. C., organized what is known as a democratic system, or oligarchy, not wholly dissimilar to our own, in many of its principles. His government lasted for six hundred years. During this long period it grew into a mighty nation, and was renowned for its code of laws, oppressively exacting, rendering all men equal before the law, and on an equality with respect to property, and for its devotion to the fine arts. The name of Lycurgus has ever since that time been the synonym for all that is most rigorous in social and political government; the laws he framed and the nation he organized, were at that day thought to be perfect; but in the history of the world they flourished but a brief period, and no vestige of them remained.

Aristotle, the famous Greek philosopher, who always walked to and fro while teaching in the Athenæum Lyceum, and from this fact is known as the founder of the Peripatetic School of Philosophy and Laws, was considered by Plato, his teacher, the greatest mind of his age. He is said to have embraced in his wonderful store of knowledge all the sciences, including logic, physics, metaphysics, ethics, politics, natural history, and all else comprehended in these. His genius and giant intellect were everywhere admitted by the whole known world; his influence was supreme, and it was heresy, we are told, to question or doubt his authority. Yet, what remains of the laws and learning of this great teacher! One would suppose that an intellect so vast would give to the world such just laws and principles of policy as would last forever. And yet the world now scarcely knows that such a man ever lived.

The first pure democracy that history teaches us of, was found in Athens, under the system or code of laws established by Clisthenes, in 510 B. C., which continued till the Roman conquest in 146 B. C., over three hundred years. In addition to these we have the laws of Draco, of Solon, and of Pericles, all answering the purpose of their originators, and filling their destined pages in history; but scarcely recognizable now among the musty law books of the present day, hid away in the old libraries of Europe.

Rome from 509 to 31 B. C. remained a Republic, ruled by two Consuls, annually elected, except during two brief intervals in that time, when the Decemvirs, Triumvirate, and one Dictator, held brief sway. For 506 years,—up until 476 B. C.—Rome ruled the entire destinies of the world. For 800 years her armies were never conquered, and she remained supreme over the universe until overwhelmed by the Goths, under Alaric, when instantly, almost, her destiny changed and her influence was lost forever.

By these references, and the lessons taught by a closer study of the internal organizations of the ancient Republics, may our future, as a nation, be learned. Whether we are so survive until the close of the first century of national life, or, like some of these old Republics—who had for their rulers the greatest intellects the world has ever produced, whose genius and learning discovered new sciences to the world of arts and letters, from which we draw our lessons to-day—live almost a thousand years through uninterrupted prosperity, depends upon the minds and hearts of our people, as they plod along from day to day.

If the lessons of duty to our God, to country, to ourselves, and to each other, taught us by the sacrifices of our forefathers of the Revolution, shall be properly implanted within us, and shall be handed down unimpaired by us to posterity, and so on, down by them, through countless ages, the great Republic may last until history shall hereafter be able to mark its progress through thousands of years. But if envy and strife shall be engendered, and the teachings of our sires be forgotten; if the Omnipotence of an all-wise God shall be provoked through the sins of the nation or of its people, then shall we, like those gone before us, be but sands upon the sea-shore, to be washed away and forever lost, by the unyielding waves of the ocean. Let us at all times emulate the example and illustrious characters of the men of the Revolution, holding their virtues up as the unerring guide-post to the youth of the land, and pointing with each recurring anniversary of the nation's birth, to the purity and patriotism they exhibited; and then, if the lessons are heeded, our loved Republic will be cherished and perpetuated in the hearts of its people.

POLITICAL NOTES.

THIS is Sam Carey's political history: Whig, Know-Nothing, Republican, Prohibitionist, Andy Johnsonman, Workingman, Agitator, and finally Democrat.

THE Republicans of Minnesota will hold their State Convention at St. Paul on July 28. It is pretty well settled that their nominee for Governor will be the Hon. J. S. Pillsbury. He is a very popular man.

MR. SHEPHERD LEFFLER, the Democratic and Liberal nominee for Governor of Iowa, is called the William Allen of that State. He entered political life in 1838, and it is said that the man does not live who can tell how old he is.

AN honest Democrat has written an obituary of his party for the Cincinnati Gazette. He says the Democratic party of Ohio has ceased to exist, and in its place has come an organization, two-thirds of which is made up of Catholics, and one-third of saloon-keepers.

THE proposition of the Missouri Constitutional Convention to give twenty-four counties, containing over one-half the entire population of the State, only thirty-three out of 143 representatives in the popular branch of the Legislature, is strongly opposed, and will probably fail of final adoption.

THE Lancaster Inquirer believes that before the Gubernatorial contest is over the sincere friends of temperance will be disgusted with being used as cats-paws to haul the Democratic chestnuts out of the fire, and throw dismay into the Democratic camp by resolving to vote the Republican ticket.

THE Sandusky Register has been informed that Senator Thurman is a regular subscriber to the Prohibition Campaign Fund, believing that to be a most effective method of defeating the Republicans. He had better subscribe to some Old Ladies' Home, where he might expect to reap the rewards of his liberality in this life.

THERE seems to be confusion in the political sentiment of the Clay family of Kentucky. Mr. Brutus Clay, son of Cassius M. Clay, who, in the recent Democratic State Convention, avowed his affiliation with the Democratic party, has since received the Republican nomination for representative in the Legislature from Madison county of that State.

THE Democrats of Clearfield county are squabbling over their candidate for Prothonotary, Mr. Geo. W. Censor, censuring the nominating Convention for declaring Mr. A. B. Barr the candidate of the party. Both gentlemen publish cards in the Democrat, charging bad faith on each other, and the probability is there will be two candidates of the Democratic persuasion in the field for that position.

COL. J. B. KNOX will receive the support of the Clarion county delegates for the Democratic nomination for Governor. The Democrats of Clarion county have made the following nominations: Senate, Wm. L. Corbett, Prothonotary, A. B. Barr; Register and Recorder, D. E. Nail; District Attorney, David Lawson; Treasurer, P. Graham; Commissioners, S. D. Sloan and J. T. Burns; Auditors, J. Russell and H. E. Best.

THE Republicans of Jefferson county have placed the following excellent ticket in the field: Prothonotary, J. B. Henderson, of Brookville; Sheriff, F. S. Crissman, of Clayville; Treasurer, M. V. Shaffer, of Brookville; Associate Judges, J. E. Mitchell, of Punxsutawney, J. C. McComb, of Corsica; County Commissioners, R. A. Travis, of Porter township, S. A. Hunter, of Knox township; County Auditors, J. F. Hawthorne, of Beaver township, M. H. Williams, of Knox township; Coroner, Dr. B. Sweeny, of Brookville.

THE following is the ticket nominated by the Mercer county Democrats: State Senator, T. B. Taylor, of Hickory; Sheriff, P. J. Pierce, of Mercer; Prothonotary, D. S. Williams, of Hempfield; Treasurer, G. C. Hotius, of Hickory; Clerk of Courts, John McKinley, of Jamestown; Recorder, S. C. Neice, of Sandy Lake; District Attorney, L. Kuder, of Greenville; Commissioners, John Carmichael, of French Creek; J. P. Derr, of Sharpsville; J. M. Dumars, of Sugargrove; Poor Director, Robert M. Pringle, of Liberty; Coroner, H. De Le Cossitt, of West Salem.

THIS about Governor Kirkwood, of Iowa, is from the Council Bluffs Nonpareil: "A man among men, his record is as perfect as the most captious could desire, and will bear the most careful scrutiny; the very soul of honor, no breath of suspicion has ever tarnished his political reputation. By faithful services in the past he has richly earned and fairly won the distinction that is his to-day, and we hesitate not to predict that the news of his nomination will be everywhere hailed with delight by the thousands upon thousands whom he piloted through to victory in years agone."

IT IS rumored that General Fitz John Porter will resign his Commissionership of Public Works in New York in order to be appointed Chief Engineer of the Dock Department.

GOVERNOR TILDEN, of New York, is so unwell that his friends are alarmed and the physicians in attendance have ordered perfect rest for some time. The Governor is overworked.

ST. PAUL had a grand sensation last Wednesday evening, in the wedding of Mr. Alphonse J. Demules and Miss Anna C. Linneman. Over 10,000 people witnessed the ceremony.

CAPT. R. H. GLEAVES, a virginia farmer, offers fifty cents for every dog scalp that may be brought to him. Fifteen of his fine Cotswold sheep have recently been killed by somebody's canine pets.

THE Sultan of Zanzibar is represented in newspaper reports as a model of observation and observations, but a London correspondent dispels the illusions by terming him "a great overgrown, bull-headed nigger, with scarcely brains enough to go in when it rains."

A. T. STEWART, Commodore Vanderbilt, R. L. Cutting, John J. Astor, August Belmont, Cornelius R. Garrison, Jay Gould and Robert Hutchings, were entertained one night last week at the hippodrome, N. Y. These gentlemen hold and represent $350,000,000.

LORD BUTE has declined to sell land for the sites of the board schools in Cardiff, and the School Board has applied to the Education Department for power to take the ground compulsorily. His lordship says that he declines to submit voluntarily to an act which is made to subserve a secularist propaganda against the Established Church.

AN English medical journal has accomplished what has always been thought an impossible task—numbering the hairs of the head. It announces that there are 160,000 to 200,000 hairs in a lady's head, and then computes their value by relating an incident which it says happened to Madame Nilsson during her residence in New York city. She was at a fancy fair and an admirer asked her the price of a single hair from her head. She said $10, "and in a few moments the Swedish songstress was surrounded by admirers anxious to buy a hair at the same rate." The proceeds were given to the fair. At this rate the value of Madame Nilsson's hair is $2,000,000.

PRINCE LEOPOLD, Queen Victoria's youngest son, appears to have thoroughly recovered from his recent illness, a fact which is very pleasing to the English, with whom he is a favorite on account of his kindness and culture. He is credited with most refined and cultivated tastes, and the hints are frequent that he will yet take a place in the ranks of royal authors.

QUEEN VICTORIA's cousin, Count Gleichin, has taken up sculpture as a profession, and is now engaged on a statue of Alfred the Great, which is to be erected at the King's birthplace, Wantage, by Col. Lloyd-Lindsay, M. P. The figure will be of colossal size, and has one hand resting on a battle-ax—the other holding a roll of parchment. The Count, being of loyal lineage, has the privilege of using as a studio a building which forms a part of St. James's Palace.

MRS. JOHN CHAMBERLAIN was the most magnificently dressed woman among the gorgeously attired throng at the Jerome Park races. She wore a brown dress, the convolutions of which it would be quite impossible to describe; she carried a blue parasol of marvelous make, and shone resplendent in diamonds, solitaries and a butterfly, which was one mass of priceless light. Her turnout was a fitting frame of this gorgeous "get-up," and even the white and gold carriage robe which was thrown across her lap, must have cost a pretty sum. She out-blazoned even Mrs. Theodore Moss, who was superbly dressed.

SIR WILLIAM E. LOGAN, the eminent English geologist, died in London on the 28th ult., aged 78. He was born in Montreal in 1798, was educated in Edinburg, and in 1829 began practical engineering and mining at Swansea, Wales. He remained there until 1835, studying the laws of the formation of coal deposits, and in 1841 came to the United States and visited the coal mines of Pennsylvania and also of Nova Scotia. In 1842 the British Government made him Chief of Geological Survey. He was also the Canadian Commissioner to the London Exhibitions of 1851 and 1862, and to the Paris Exhibition of 1855. He was made a Knight in 1856.

THE Crugen will case, which has been before the Surrogate of Rochester, N. Y., for a year, came to a conclusion Friday. The Surrogate holds, first, that, under the circumstances, it is the part of those proposing the admission of the will to probate to show that the testatrix was sane when the instrument was executed; and, second, that they have not done so. Accordingly he rejects the papers and decides that Mrs. Crugen died intestate.

THE second Cape May regatta will take place on Monday and Tuesday, July 12 and 13. The Committee invite entries of all yachts belonging to any organized Yacht Club, and offer the first day two silver prizes, valued at a thousand dollars each—one for sloops and the other for schooners; the second day will be a sweepstakes race, for two silver prizes worth five hundred dollars each. Interesting races are anticipated, quite a number of clubs being already entered.

CAPT. LINDELL and Dean, chief mate of the bark Union, lost on Puget Sound, May 7th, by striking a rock and sinking, were arrested in San Francisco at the instance of the insurance companies for wilfully wrecking the vessel. The mate made a confession, charging the Captain with approaching him with plans to destroy the vessel. The design was deliberately carried out. The Captain denies the charge. The Union was worth about $8,000; insured for $15,000.

TWENTY-SEVEN murder cases have been disposed of by the United States District Court at Fort Smith, Arkansas, before which all the criminal business from the Indian Nation comes. Out of this number there were eight convictions for murder in the first degree. Seven of those convicted, including two boys, one seventeen, the other nineteen years old, are to be hanged together on the 3d of September next. The eighth one, a negro, was killed after conviction, while attempting to escape from the guard. Much outlawry prevails in the Indian Territory, and ten men have been killed in the vicinity of Fort Smith within a few months.

The "Bull's Eye."

The uninitiated may imagine that "the bull's eye," so often referred to in the reports of the International Rifle Match, is something larger than a pin head, and smaller than a good-sized hat. As a matter of fact, the bull's eye at Dollymount was 3 feet square. The target was 6 feet high by 12 feet in width, and "the centre," including the bull's eye, 6 feet square. It would be a feat for an ordinary marksman to hit "the centre" at the 1,000-yard range. The conditions of the match excluded all adventitious aids, such as rests, sights, &c. Maj. Fulton, who made the best scores at the short ranges, is considered the crack shot of America. He takes a peculiar position when shooting, lying down almost flat upon his back, crossing his legs, pressing the stock of his rifle close against his cheek, and holding the butt with his left hand, which is passed around under the head. The right hand is thus left free to pull the trigger, and the crossed legs form an admirable rest. All the riflemen recline either on the belly, back, or side, when shooting. One of the peculiar and unexpected developments of the match was the superiority of the Ameriaans at the 900 and 1,000 yard ranges. The Irishmen supposed that the longer the range the better their chances of success, while the event proved that the contrary was true.

Charlie Ross.

A year has elapsed since the abduction of Charlie Ross, and now it is said that Westervelt, the brother-in-law of one of the abductors, who is now in our County Prison, has made an important confession as to the original crime, which promises well for the recovery of the lost boy, though it furnishes no information as to where he is at present. Whether Westervelt's alleged statement is as important as hinted in certain quarters can only be decided after it shall have been made public. At present it is denied to the press for private and prudential reasons or by request of the authorities. It is devoutly to be wished that this confession may lead to the restoration of the boy to his distressed parents; but we fear that it will prove as delusive as have all former inspirations of temporary hopes on this subject.—*Phila. THE WESTERN IRON TRADE.

Every Indication of Healthy Activity.

Mr. James M. Swank, the editor of the Bulletin of the American Iron and Steel Association, has just returned from a journey to the West and Northwest, and has this to say of the Western iron trade:—"Notwithstanding the dissatisfaction with the financial situation which we have noted, the general business of the West, as already stated, is not greatly depressed and shows signs of improvement. A most convincing proof of the correctness of this view is afforded in the condition of the Western iron trade. Commencing at Pittsburgh, it shows every indication of healthy activity. Profits are of course restricted—not what they once were, but the stagnation in the trade which existed last winter is gone. Nearly every rolling mill at Pittsburgh is running and selling its product. All the large steel works in the same city are as busy as they can be. Their product is sold up, and their owners have the money for it. Never before has the Western demand for their agricultural steel been greater than during the past few mouths, while a gratifying increase in the demand for their tool and cutlery steel has come from all sections. The Shenango and Mahoning valleys are almost bare of good mill and Bessemer pig iron, and the rolling mills at Youngstown, Cleveland, Newburg, Columbus, Newark, and elsewhere in Ohio are running with scarcely an exception. The output of pig iron in the Shenango and Mahoning valleys will be increased during the remainder of the year, unless the Pittsburgh mills should quickly shut down, which is not near so likely as that they will increase the price of their product. In Southern Ohio the iron trade is not active, which is largely owing to the fact that its product is principally foundry iron, which is held for an improved demand and better prices. The Indianapolis and Terre Haute mills are running, but few of the Indiana furnaces are in blast. At Chicago, Joliet and Milwaukee there is very great activity in all iron and steel establishments. About one-half the furnaces in Wisconsin and the Lake Superior district are in blast while in Southern Michigan the proportion of furnaces in blast is about the same. The Wyandotte Rolling Mill is running; so is the Springfield (Ill.) Rolling Mill. At St. Louis the iron trade has lately been characterized by great animation. The shipments of Lake Superior iron ore are larger than was anticipated at the beginning of the year, and they promise to be well maintained all through the shipping season. As a rule, only the best mines are being worked. Labor and the other expenses of mining are lower than in former years, and freights are lower, so that the best ores are now delivered at Cleveland at $7 to $7.50 a ton. In 1872 the same ores cost $12. There is very little disposition manifested to mine first-class ore that is not contracted for, and as the year's shipments will exceed one-half the quantity shipped in the best year the district ever knew, it will be seen that the present year will prove to be a reasonably prosperous one to the operators. We purposely avoid wearisome details of the Western iron trade, as we found it, but we desire to be explicit in the statement of the conclusion that a very decided reaction for the better has occurred—that stocks of good pig iron are decreasing, and that a tendency to higher prices both for pig and manufactured iron is plainly apparent. A careful summary of the information obtained by us shows that fully three-fourth of the mill capacity and fully one-half of the furnace sapacity, including Pittsburgh, are now actively employed."

A Scotch Girl's Answer.

A country lass was driving a donkey to a fair at Rensrewshire one fine summer morning. The donkey was a laggard, and was more intent on cropping the roadside herbage than on going to the fair; but the girl did not put herself about. Pleasant thoughts of her sweetheart were passing through her mind, and she sang gayly to herself. An Irish laborer overtook her, and, as he passed, he said, "My darling, you're as lively this morning as if you had been newly kissed." The happy girl at once answered: "If ye think, Pat, that a kiss makes ane lively, I wish ye wad kiss me cuddy, for he's unco stiff this morning!"

TO CAPITALISTS.

I have invented a plan whereby Railroad Cars can be coupled and uncoupled, and the link set at desired angle, without requiring any person to go between the cars to accomplish it.

The plan is simple, inexpensive and effectual.

A liberal interest in the invention will be given to a party who will furnish the money to get patents in this country and Europe.

I have a working model of the invention.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, July 5, 1875.

To-day being a legal holiday, all our banking institutions will be closed. The demand for money on Saturday was equal to the supply, owing to the paying of the men in our manufacturing institutions, and the anticipating of notes due to-day. For the next ten days money will be close, but once the July settlements commence, which will be after the 15th, money will be plenty. There is nothing doing in bank stocks worth noting. Generally speaking, bank stocks are not paying as well as mortgages, and those holding this kind of stock do not want to part with it for less than they paid for it. What is offered is selling at about 10 per cent. less than it was a year ago. The time has come when holders of all kinds of stock must be satisfied with a less per cent. interest. Banks, unless they have a large surplus fund, cannot make as large dividends as they have been doing since the war. Borrowers cannot afford to pay over 8 per cent. for money now, and taking the necessary losses of banks, their high taxes and other general expenses, they will be forced to come to 3 and 4 per cent. semi-annual dividends. There is a fair demand for money, mortgage ten per cent. being the ruling price. This is more than real estate at this time can well bear, but holders of it prefer to pay this price than to sell at the depressed condition of the market. We very much fear unless there is a revival in business—and that very soon—real estate will go still lower.

The reports from all directions indicate an abundant harvest, especially in corn, oats, potatoes and hay. The fruit crop, so far as it relates to apples, will be a failure, but the peach crop in New Jersey and Delaware will be the largest ever known. Agents swarm our city daily, begging of our commission men who deal in fruits to act for them and help sell their crop. The indications now are that peaches will be a drug on the market.

NEW YORK, July 3, 1875.

Money closed at 1½a2 per cent. Foreign exchange was rather more active than usual on Saturday, because of the late hour of sailing of the packets. The nominal rates are unchanged, but in tone the market is easier and good bills can be bought at 485½, less a 1-16, and sight below 490. Prime commercial paper is quoted at 3½a5 per cent. Gold opened and closed at 117⅛, with sales in the interim at 117. The rates paid for carrying were 1, 1½ and 2 per cent. The clearings were $29,000,000. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $621,000, and received for customs $234,000. The specie shipments to Europe to-day were $1,950,000, of which $1,800,000 was gold coin. Governments are dull and steady. State bonds are quiet and nominal. Railroad bonds were quiet in late afternoon dealings.

The stock market was very dull, as usual on the day preceding a holiday, and the Long Branch races helped to take away the crowd. At the opening of business prices were lower, but afterward recovered, and after the recovery continued almost stationary until just before the close, when there was a slight spurt in some of the speculative stocks, with a tendency toward higher prices.

The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company give notice to the Stock Exchange that on and after August 1st the company will substitute its stock certificates for those of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad and its branch stock; also, that it will issue its own certificates of stock in exchange for convertible bonds of the Burlington & Missouri River Railroad Company.

The sales aggregated 75,300 shares, of which 3,000 were Erie, 28,000 Lake Shore, 12,000 Pacific Mail, and 23,000 Western Union.

Condition of the Markets at Home and Abroad.

DAILY REPORT OF PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, July 3, 1875.

The leading merchandise markets continue dull as they always are at this season of the year, and our merchants do not look for any decided improvement until after harvest. The demand for all kinds of merchandise is light, restricted entirely to supplying immediate necessities while as regards values, there have been no recent important changes.

APPLES—New crop have made their appearance, but as yet no regular rates have been established. Sales of old at $3@5 ℔ bbl., according to quality and condition.

APPLE BUTTER—50@55c ℔ gallon.

BERRIES—Strawberries scarce and higher; sales were made to-day at 15@18 cents ℔ box. Raspberries, $12 ℔ stand of two bushels.

BEANS—Dull; but with a limited supply, prices are maintained; mediums, $1,80@1,85; navies, $1,90@2.

BUTTER—The market continues very dull, but prices are nominally unchanged: selling at 12@16 cents for fair to choice solid packed. Commission merchants have little or no demand, as producers and peddlers are now supplying the market.

CHEESE—There is an active demand, and with a limited supply and diminished receipts, the market is firmer but unchanged. Prime Ohio Factory, in a jobbing way, 11@11½.

EGGS—There has been a steady demand during the past two or three days as there always is just preceding a holiday, but the market will very likely weaken after the Fourth, as the demand will be considerably less; we continue to quote at 18@19.

FLOUR—Continues quiet and unchanged. Spring wheat flours, $5,75@6,25, the outside figure for choice Minnesotas; winters, $6,25 to $6,50 for red, and $6,75@7 for amber and white. Rye Flour, $6,00@6,25.

GROCERIES—Trade continues quiet, and about the only feature of notice is that Rio Coffee is firmer at the seaboard, and more active. The Rio advices report a very strong market there, and this will naturally tend to strengthen the bean in this country. Stock in first hands in New York July 1, 1875, 44,207 bags; at Baltimore, 15,372 bags; at Hampton Roads, 14,024 bags; at Galveston, 3,000 bags; at Savannah, 3,000 bags; total, 35,396 bags; afloat and loading for New York, 38,000 bags; other ports in the United States, 66,800 bags; total, 104,800 bags; total stock and supplies for all ports of the United States, 184,403 bags. Messrs. Wright & Co.'s telegram, dated Rio, June 30, 1875, advising:—sales since 24th inst., 23,000 bags; shipments, 35,000 bags; loading, 73,000 bags; stock at date 112,000 bags; average daily receipts, 6,300 bags; price, 8–850; exchange, 27¼c.

GRAIN—The grain trade has been remarkably dull for a week or two past; some of our merchants report that they have had less business than at any preceding corresponding time since the panic; and, furthermore, in addition to an exceedingly light business, in consequence of the sharp and almost continued shrinkage in prices, there has been little or no margin for profit. There is but little Wheat arriving and not much inquiry for it; may be quoted at $1,23@1,25 for Penna. and Ohio red, and 3@5c additional for amber and white. The Oat market continues dull, but unchanged: 62@63 for mixed, and 64 for white, free in elevator—sales of white, on track, at 62½. Ear Corn in light supply, and with an increased demand, the market is firmer; we now quote on track at 75@77 for mixed to prime yellow. Rye is quiet and lower; last sales reported were at $1,10.

HAY—The market for baled continues dull, with more arriving than there is a demand for, and prices are weak but unchanged; prairie, $17 to $19; timothy, $20 to $22.

PROVISIONS—Trade continues fairly active, and while the general tone of the market is firmer, as compared with what it was a few weeks ago, there has been but little change in prices here, one way or the other. Our merchants do not pretend to keep up with Chicago or Cincinnati.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK.

Business continues very dull and unsatisfactory, but it is hoped and expected, notwithstanding the outlook at the present writing is not all that could be desired by any means, that there will soon be a change for the better. The most important event to record is the breaking up of the Refiners Association, or combination as it was generally termed, in consequence of which our refiners are just in the same place they occupied before they went into the combination, are at liberty to conduct their business as they may deem proper. The object of the combination, to regulate the production so as to afford the manufacturer a living margin, was commendable, but refiners here claim that it was manipulated in favor of Cleveland and other competing points at the expense of Pittsburgh, and this, as we understand it, was their chief cause for withdrawing from the movement and causing it to go under, as it could not exist without the co-operation of the Pittsburgh refiners. Another important event is the completion of the Conduit Pipe Line; it has been in operation for some days, and we understand the company expect to be able to supply some of our refiners with the raw article during the coming week. The capacity of the Conduit is said to be about 4,500 barrels ℔ day, which is equal to the average receipts by rail for some months past. With the completion of this pipe line, which places Pittsburgh in direct communication with the wells, and reduces very materially the cost of transportation; together with two competing routes to the seaboard, the trade here are confident of coping successfully with all competing points.

CRUDE.

The market has stiffened up somewhat within the past few days, although the bears have been doing their level best to break it down, and they have been partially successful. It is reported that Titusville and Cleveland refiners are largely short, having sold ahead at low rates, and that they are endeavoring to force down the market in consequence. Immediate shipment was quoted to-day at $1,27½ bid and $1,30 asked.

REFINED.

The market has been very quiet all week, although prices are ⅛ to ¼ better; Philadelphia and Baltimore delivery, 12; New York do., 12½@12¾c; quotable at 9¾ on Connellsville cars, with sales during the time under review at the price in question.

OIL BARRELS.

There has been a fair business during the week, but prices remain unchanged; countries, $1,10@1,15; cities, $1,30.

PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

PITTSBURGH CENTRAL STOCK YARDS.

ARRIVALS.

Following were the arrivals of live stock at these yards for the week, and, to afford a comparison, we append those of last week also:

	This week.	Last week.
Cattle	376 cars.	511 cars.
Hogs	158 "	176 "
Sheep	52 "	116 "

FREIGHTS.

To New York	29c ℔ cwt
To Philadelphia	24c ℔ cwt
To Baltimore	24c ℔ cwt

CATTLE.

The arrivals, both of local and through consignments, were considerably short of last week, 376 cars in the aggregate, against 511 cars; of the arrivals this week 214 cars were through and 162 cars local, against 294 cars of through and 217 cars of local last week; the sales were 2,097 head, against 3,296 last week.

The market opened up sluggish, and, to sellers, very unsatisfactory, and it continued so all the way through; notwithstanding the supply was much less it was considerably in excess of the demand, which was also light, and for the common and medium grades prices declined fully 25c ℔ cwt, and owners generally of this particular grade must have lost freight and other expenses, if not first cost in the country. Prime fed cattle, the supply of which was exceedingly small, held their own, as compared with the preceding week, although the market for these was slow, in sympathy with the depression in the commoner grades. The great bulk of the offerings consisted of native grassers, the most of which were not more than half fattened, and not very suitable for beef; furthermore, the abundance and low price of Texas cattle has a tendency to depress the market for the commoner grades of native grassers.

Prime to extra graded steers may be quoted at 6¾@7; do. medium to good, 6¼@6½; prime to extra grassers, 5⅝@6; medium to good, 4@5. Through Texans, 3@4c, as to quality and condition. It is but proper to state, however, that, in view of the diminished shipments, both from here and Buffalo to New York, that there was a better feeling to-day, as the prospects were regarded as favorable for an improvement next week.

The demand for stockers has been unusually light thus far this season, which is rather singular, in view of the fact that there is an abundance of pasture, but there will doubtless be considerable inquiry before long.

HOGS.

The most noticeable feature to notice in connection with the market for this class of stock is that there is now little or no difference between good and heavy hogs; in other words, good light [illegible] yesterday brought as much and sold more [illegible] than prime heavy Philadelphia hogs. Or[illegible] there is a difference of ¼ to ½ cent ℔ lb., light commanding that much more than the [illegible] at the present writing there is no difference. Sales were made this forenoon, at $7.[illegible] to $7.40 for fair to prime Yorkers, and $7.25 were Philadelphia hogs, and while the pens latter of the former, there were some of the old.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The [illegible] opened up very sluggish, and, notwithstanding the supply was light, sellers were obliged to make concessions in order to effect sales. The advices from Philadelphia, New York, and Baltimore were unfavorable, as these markets were overstocked, [illegible] at a decline of fully 25 cents per cwt., [illegible] and to sellers exceedingly unsatisfactory [illegible] it was very generally conceded that the [illegible] taken all in all, was the worst we have had this year, and owners must have lost heavily. The best 100 lb. sheep cannot be quoted above 4.50@4.60, 90@95 lbs., 4¼@4½; 80@85 lbs., 3¾@4; 70@75 lbs., 3@3½. Lambs, 50@60 lbs, 5@5½, a decline of 2½@3 cents, as compared with the highest point. However, the market winds up with a more cheerful feeling, under the influence of more favorable reports from the east.

THE WOOL TRADE.

NEW YORK.

The Tribune says:—The demand has improved since our last, and prices tend in buyers' favor, especially Texas and California; owing to the liberal receipts of the former, prices at the close are weaker. The Western Clip arrives slowly, and these find ready sale. Prices are still wide apart between buyer and seller, and farmers will have to recede in their views before any large amount of business can be done. The London market continues to improve. Foreign Wools have not met with a better inquiry. Carpet Wool stocks are light and prices rule firm. Pulled and Combing Wools are in fair request at unchanged rates.

There has been a fair business done in Wool during the past month, the transactions being principally in California, however, with other classes comparatively quiet. The arrivals from California have been large during the past few weeks, and holders generally show a disposition to meet the views of buyers on these wools at a range of 30 to 35c for the best clips, and 25 to 30c for average parcels. The continued dullness in the goods market influences manufacturers to select such wools as will make them the cheapest stock, and enable them to dispose of their productions without loss. This cannot be accomplished by the use of fleeces to any great extent, hence they have been free purchasers of Californias, which, at the ruling rates, will make the goods now in demand at a lower cost than any other description. In buying these wools, however, they are careful to select the best conditioned lots, and the inferior parcels, which do not meet with as much favor, may show some decline from present quotations before they can be forced into consumption. We do not get very satisfactory reports from the interior in reference to the new clip of Domestic Fleeces. Growers have fixed their views too high to admit of the wools meeting the market at a profit to the operators, and with the exception of some purchases of Combing, and medium selections, needed for immediate consumption, we do not hear of any large amount having changed from first hands. In Ohio and Michigan some local buyers are taking Clips at 45c for the former and 40 to 42c for the latter Wools, but unless they succeed in getting unusual deductions for all ill conditioned fleeces these prices leave no margin for profit when the Wools reach the seaboard markets. With the small per centage of fleece Wools now being used there is probably enough of last season's clip to supply the mills for several weeks, and unless the new Wools settle to a point which, to manufacturers, seems more reasonable, they are likely to be neglected during the Summer months. It is the general opinion among the trade, at the present writing, that no description of wool is likely to show any advance during the next few months, and unless there should be some decided improvement in the Woolen Goods trade to stimulate more activity among manufacturers, who for so long past have been slow to make any prominent move in the market, it is not unlikely we shall see some falling off from present quotations.

MICHIGAN.

Accounts from Michigan are somewhat contradictory regarding the movement in the new clip of wool. The Detroit Advertiser states that it is being marketed freely all along the line of the Central Railroad, while at Wayne, Howell and Owasso the season has just opened, and quite vigorously, the average price being 38@40c, while both extremes for washed fleeces are 35@45c. On the other hand, the Michigan Farmer, published also at Detroit, denies that the movement has become at all general or active, and says that most of the farmers are holding back and watching the indications, relying upon the high price of foreign wool, which practically precludes its importation, to compel the manufacturers to accede to their demand for higher prices than have been paid so far. Yet it admits that a much higher basis of values is very probable in view of the condition of the market for woolen goods and the depressed state of the manufacturing industries. As to the condition of the wool, the Advertiser says: "The wool marketed is superior in quality, more thoroughly washed, and the fleeces put up in better shape than the last year's clip. The wool buyers handle every fleece as they take it in, which has brought a few of the farmers to grief who brought stuffed fleeces, causing those clips to be confiscated, and those persons to be held to bail for the criminal offence.

PHILADELPHIA.

Wool continues to arrive quite freely, but prices are without material change. Combing has been selling more freely and unwashed has been selling well at 37 to 38c for medium. In Ohio free sales have been made at 44 to 45. The sales of the week included the following descriptions: Ohio XX old, 53½c; Ohio fine new, 48 to 52½c; Ohio medium, 50c; Ohio three-eighths blood, 52½c; Colorado choice, 40c; do. fine, 35c; do. medium, 30c; do. black, 21 to 25c; do. coarse, 25 to 28c. (By Telegraph.)

BOSTON, June 3.—Wool was active the past week. The arrivals of new Ohio, Pennsylvania and western fleeces have been very light, and the sales of this description smaller than for several years past. The sales for the week comprise Ohio XXX and above at 48@52c; Michigan 47@50c; western and other fleeces 45c; combing and delaine fleeces 55@59c; unwashed combing and delaine 40@48c; washed fleeces 26@41½c; scoured 37@87½c; super and extra pulled 35@54c.

CHICAGO.

Continues moderately active, the medium grades being chiefly in request. Stocks are light, and the grades designated above are steady. The receipts are increasing: Tub-washed, prime, 52 to 53c; do. poor to good, 40 to 50c; washed fleece, fine, 38 to 41c; do. medium, 40c to 43c; do. coarse, 38c to 40c; unwashed, fine heavy to light, 25 to 28c; do. medium, 30 to 33c; do. coarse, 28 to 33c.

July 3.—The market was tolerably steady under moderate offerings and a limited demand. Fine wools are generally discarded by manufacturers, and the stock is accumulating, but not rapidly, as growers and country dealers are disposed to hold back as long as possible, being unwilling to accept the prices offered. Other grades are also coming in slowly. Tub-washed, prime, 52 to 53c; do. poor to good, 40 to 50c; washed fleece—fine—38 to 41c; do. medium, 40 to 43c; do. coarse, 38 to 40c; unwashed—fine heavy to light—25 to 28c; do. medium, 30 to 33c; do. coarse, 28 to 33c.

OHIO.

Wool is duller than at our last writing. Buyers are unwilling to offer higher rates than 40 to 48 cents. A gentleman is in the vicinity buying combing wool for a Philadelphia firm, at 50c. It is quite likely that the prices now offered will not move the wool of this community, and that growers will hold to it until fall.—Belmont (O.) Chronicle.

BALTIMORE.

Receipts fair, and the market steady, though inactive. Most of the lots coming forward, however, find buyers, and we quote as follows, viz.: common unwashed in good condition, 32@35c; burry do., 24 to 25c; tub-washed, 48 to 50c, and fleece 38 to 42c ℔ pound.

LOUISVILLE.

Demand good, with moderate receipts, and prices are firm. Combing, 36 to 48c; clothing, 33c to 34c; tub-washed, 48 to 50c on arrival.

LOUISVILLE.

The market is firm, with light receipts and a good demand. Combing, 36 to 38c; clothing, 33 to 34c; tub-washed, 48 to 50c on arrival.

GEO. H. ROHE, Sergeant Signal Service, U. S. A.

THE stage of water last evening was 3½ feet, and falling. Heavy rains in the forenoon yesterday, and the indications at this writing are favorable for more.

CAPT. JOHN L. RHOADS is on the sick list.

CAPT. I. R. Whittaker has returned from Cincinnati.

CAPTAIN BEN. F. GOODWIN has purchased the towboat Ike Hammet.

THE Fannie Tatum was advertised to leave St. Louis for Pittsburgh on Saturday.

THE towboat Clipper has gone down to meet the John L. Rhoads, and assist her up.

THE Kittie Hegler, from Cincinnati, should arrive here to-night or to-morrow. She will load for a return trip at once.

THE Exchange arrived from Cincinnati, on Saturday night, with a fair trip. She will lay by for a few days to repaint and repair.

THE manifest of the John L. Rhoads, for an advance copy of which we are indebted to the clerk, Mr. Fisher, will be found elsewhere.

CAPT. FRANK HICKS writes from Metropolis that the Mary Bell will be launched in about two weeks. Business is fair for the time of the year.

CAPTS. GEO. W. NEARE and James S. Wise are candidates for County Treasurer at Cincinnati. The former is a Democrat and the latter a Republican.

THE St. Louis Globe says:—Capt. John J. Darragh is in Pittsburgh, and they want to keep him there. We cannot spare him from his new home; we want several more steamboatmen here like him.

CAPT. J. T. BURDEAU is fifty-eight years of age, and never tasted a drop of spirituous liquor in his life. He attributes his well preserved constitution and vigorous health to this fact. The Captain never uses tobacco in any form.

A. L. RYLAND, late river editor of the St. Louis Democrat, has been appointed by the Government an Internal Revenue Gauger, for the first St. Louis District. The bond required is $1,000, which Mr. Ryland will give and then proceed to draw from Uncle Sam's pocket about $166 per month.

A CAIRO dispatch says:—The wharfboat of I. M. Phillips & Co., and Halliday Bros., of this city, were consolidated to-day, under the firm name of Halliday & Phillips. The towboat Ike Hammett was sold to-day to Captain Ben. F. Goodwin on private terms. C. W. Hequemberg, Cairo agent for the Cairo, Arkansas and Texas Railroad, resigned to-day, and Mr. J. C. Zemmer, of Little Rock, takes his place.

THE Ashland (Ky.) Journal, of last Wednesday, contains the following:—The suit of Miss Lida Davison and others, of Coalton, against the Ohio No. 4, which grew out of the failure of the boat to abide by their excursion promises, was decided before 'Squire Sherrit, one day last week, in favor of the plaintiffs; $25 each and cost in three cases, was the result of the action......Elias Enler has sold the Era No. 9 to Captain Drinkwater, who will build a new boat for its machinery, to ply in the Arkansas River trade.

A ST. LOUIS dispatch, under date of 2d, says:—Business fair. One boat and a fleet of barges will get away for New Orleans to-morrow, and the Fanny Tatum and John Means leave for Pittsburgh next week, taking ore. There is nothing else offering. Captain Bart. Able, who has been confined at home by sickness for several weeks, was taken worse last night, and is not expected to live. His sister, Mrs. Nat. S. Green, of Memphis, was telegraphed for to-day. Com. Kountz is still here. The Great Republic and several other boats are preparing to make excursion trips on the Fourth.

THE Sioux City Journal, June 29th, says:—The steamer Nellie Peck, from Cheyenne, and the Carroll, for Fort Benton, cleared from Yankton Saturday noon. Ten men passed this city in a flatboat yesterday forenoon. They were from Fort Benton, and are bound for St. Louis. Captain Jim Clark, of the steamer Charles W. Mead, which is now lying at our levee, is talking of making an excursion trip up the river on the 5th of July. The steamer Western arrived at Yankton from Bismarck Sunday afternoon. She left Bismarck the 23d inst., and met the Silver Lake at St. John's wood-yard on the 24th inst., and the Carroll and the Nellie Peck 12 miles above Yankton on the 25th. The Key West was at Bismarck when the Western left. The Durfee will be the next to load with Government freight at the Yankton warehouse. The steamer Western arrived, Saturday, without freight. She made the run from Bismarck in 66 hours, including all landings.

Aggravated Assault and Battery.

A man named John Culbert was arrested in Allegheny on Saturday evening, on a charge of having badly beaten a man named B. D. Powell, in Beaver, Pa. He was removed to that place.

Resigned.

Mr. W. W. Speer, of the Allegheny Board of Poor Directors, has resigned his position as Secretary of that Board. Mr. Joseph F. Neely was elected to fill the position. Mr. Speer still retains his position as a member of the Board.

Run Over.

A little four year old daughter of Mr. McRoberts, a shoemaker, who resides on Federal street, above North avenue, Allegheny, was run over by a butcher's wagon on North avenue on Saturday evening and very badly injured. She was carried to her home and medical aid summoned.

Arm Fractured.

On Saturday evening about six o'clock, Miss Jennie, daughter of Mr. John Grier, accidentally fell down a flight of stairs at her residence, on Rebecca street, near Ridge avenue, Allegheny, and fractured one of her arms, and was otherwise badly bruised. Dr. Johnston attended her.

Serious Fall.

About one o'clock yesterday morning a man named Hunter, who is employed on the tug-boat Stella, which is moored at the Monongahela wharf, opposite Ferry street, accidentally fell from the hurricane roof to the lower deck of the boat and was very seriously injured. He was removed to his home on Saw Mill alley, Allegheny, and medical aid summoned. His injuries are of a very serious nature, and his recovery is considered doubtful.

Slight Fires.

Yesterday at eleven o'clock an alarm of fire was struck from Box 34, corner of Eleventh and Liberty streets, which was caused by a chimney in a house at No. 415 Penn street being on fire. It was extinguished without the aid of the department and the damage done was inconsiderable.

A second alarm was struck from box 152, South Side. A slight fire took place in the storeroom of the glass house of Messrs. Stewart and Estep, corner of Twenty-third and Jane streets. The loss was about two hundred and fifty dollars.

Bold Robbery.

On Saturday night about eleven o'clock Michael Kerr was knocked down in a saloon on First street, near Middle street, Allegheny, by a man named Charles Delinger, and while he was down Delinger robbed him of $30. He handed the money to a companion, and then they were both about to escape when officer Weir dropped on them and captured Delinger and locked him up. Delinger's partner was pursued by officer Campbell, but he succeeded in eluding him in the darkness. Delinger will have a hearing to-day.

Wooster College.

A well written account of the exercises of commencement week at Wooster College, Ohio, has reached us, but unfortunately it came in about two weeks after the fair, and is therefore somewhat out of date. We note, however, that the institution had 233 students last year, with a large medical class. The financial prosperity of the institution has been marked during the year, and the outlook for the future is promising in every way. Rev. Dr. James Black, late President of the Pennsylvania Female College, will formally assum the Greek chair at the beginning of the fall term, and will deliver an address at that time.

A LIVELY TUSSLE.

Vigorous Resistance of the Police.

Yesterday afternoon, about three o'clock, a disturbance took place in the vicinity of the Rush House, near the Union Depot, when Lieut. John D. McChesney and officer Moran interfered. They attempted the arrest of two brothers, who gave their names as McCloskey, and a lively tussle ensued. When the officers seized the men one of them attempted to cut the Lieutenant, which resulted in his clothes being pretty well hacked up, besides a slight wound on one of his hands. The men wallowed in the mud for a time, in the scuffle, after which the prisoners were conveyed to the Central Station. They will have a hearing this morning.

ALMOST DROWNED.

Narrow Escape from a Watery Grave.

On Saturday, about noon, a little nine year old son of Officer John Kaltenbaugh, of the Allegheny police force, went into the Allegheny river, near the gas works, to bathe. While paddling around there, he got beyond his depth, and as he was unable to swim, he sank to the bottom. Mr. Charles Lighthill, who saw him sink, quickly went to his assistance, but it was some time before he could get the boy, who, when recovered, was insensible. He was removed to his home and Dr. P. W. Heron summoned, and it required two hours hard labor before he was brought to consciousness again. His escape from death was a very narrow one.

THE "FOURTH" FIRE.

The First Anniversary of the Big Blaze.

Yesterday was the first anniversary of the big fire of '74 in Allegheny, and naturally the subject was the theme of conversation in many circles in the city. The fire, it will be remembered, broke out shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon, and swept away a large square of buildings in about four hours, besides giving the people in the upper part of town a thrilling scare, for fear the whole section would fall a prey to the flames. There were about seventy-five buildings destroyed, and the loss aggregated about $210,000. Some of the buildings were valuable, but others were of a plebian character, and their removal did not materially injure the beauty of the city. In one sense the fire—though it was undoubtedly a great calamity—has proven a blessing in disguise. The "burnt district" has since been about half rebuilt, and the new buildings are a vast improvement on the old. Some of the new buildings are especially ornate and substantial and add much to the appearance of the city in that locality. There are yet some evidences in the "burnt district" of the fire which swept over it, but American enterprise and pluck is exhibited in the improvements which have been made.

If warm weather ever comes in earnest people will want ice cream with that, they will find that the Cocoanut Drops, Macaroons and Lady Fingers, made by S. S. Marvin & Co., are the best and cheapest they can buy.

SUITS AGAINST THE CITY.

Matterly Addis brought suit against the city of Pittsburgh in the Common Pleas Court No. 2 Saturday, to recover $15,112, alleged to be due on the contract for grading and paving Wilkins avenue, from Fifth avenue to Shady Lane. A portion of the indebtedness arises, as is set forth, from a change which was made in the grade of the street, at the instance of the city, and for which it agreed to pay a reasonable compensation. The plaintiff says he complied with the wishes of the city in changing the grade as directed, for which he asks the sum of $1,500, besides $600 for filling up an excavation. A summons was issued. A second action was brought against the city by the same party for the construction of a bridge in the East End, for which he claims there is due him the sum of $4,007.27. A summons was issued.

COURT BREVITIES.

David D. Davis had a hearing before United States Commissioner Gamble Saturday, which resulted in his being held to bail in the sum of $5,000 for Court. It will be remembered that the defendant is charged with being implicated with a gang of counterfeiters who were arrested two weeks ago.

Detective Pender transferred the Williamsport prisoners mentioned in our last issue, to the Western Penitentiary on Saturday.

A TRIP TO OHIO.

A Few Interesting Facts Gathered Up by the Way.

A representative of this paper made a trip to Eastern Ohio on Friday over the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad. Pulling up to a little town named Waynesburg, in Starke county, a distance of ninety-five miles from this city, the end of the journey was reached. It is a beautiful village situated on a branch of the Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railroad, running to Canal Dover, and is surrounded by some of the richest farming lands in the State. In it are three dry goods stores, a hardware store, a cabinet shop, a bank and two hotels, one of which has been kept for over forty years by a man named Hamilton, who is now more than four score years of age. As is usually the custom, the condition of business was inquired into, and as the merchants would talk about the matter very considerately, they acknowledged that it was not as brisk as it had been in former years, however better times was soon expected. Although Waynesburg only has about six hundred inhabitants, it gives a liberal support to all its business houses, and its banking house, being the only one in the village, of course has a run of all the deposits. Our reporter in looking about the town ran across one individual who was quite communicative, and who was free to give all the information in his power. Here it was learned Billy Edwards the pugilist once lived and married one of Starke county's fair daughters, her parents still residing at Waynesburg. One informant said Billy was a wiry young man, and boasted somewhat of his ability to get away with Collyer and others.

From the number of churches in Waynesburg, a person would naturally be inclined to think that the moral status of the town ought to be of the highest order. No less than four denominations are represented viz: Methodist, Episcopal, Lutheran, Presbyterian and Disciple. The congregations are all said to be in a flourishing condition.

PERSONAL.

Secretary Belknap passed through the city on Saturday, on his way to Chicago.

Judge Kirkpatrick leaves for New York to-day and will sail for Europe on Wednesday.

General W. S. Hancock passed through the city at an early hour Saturday morning, on his way West.

Rev. Dr. S. J. Wilson has been appointed Chaplain of the Fourteenth Regiment N. G. of Pennsylvania, by Col. Hill. The Doctor has accepted the position.

A party, consisting of Robert Pitcairn, J. McC. Creighton, John Chislett, James P. Young, and some other gentlemen, will start for Canada on a fishing excursion in a few days.

George T. Oliver, Esq., of this city received the honorary degree of Master of Arts from Bethany college, West Virginia, at its recent commencement. He graduated in the class of 1868.

Messrs. John H. Hampton, John K. Brown, Abner U. Howard, and John A. Harper returned on Saturday from a fishing excursion in the Northwest. They were absent about a fortnight, and made Michigan their stamping ground. They bring back trophies of their luck.

An anomatologist might with some satisfaction illustrate his science with the somewhat singular coincidence furnished in the name of the Democratic candidate for Sheriff, Robert Patterson, when demonstrating that history repeats itself, and that nomenclature has something to do with the deciphering of individual and party destinies. Bob Patterson was the name of the original "Old Mortality," a good enough Covenanter, who in his hours of dementation earned this sobriquet by furnishing and restoring the neglected tombstones of the churchyards, clearing the moss from those grown gray and ragged through time, marking afresh the worn out inscriptions and faded epitaphs, and thus in his love for the work down among the dead men, found a melancholy pleasure. So to-day we find the patronymic of "Old Mortality" engaged in just such recreation, for is he not found with chisel and mallet in hand in the boneyard of the long since defunct Democracy, busily at work rejuvenating decayed monuments and uncared for tombstones which mark the long dead and forgotten of the past, for among them he finds more political consolation than he can gain from the living of the progressive present.

The Boat Race on Saturday—Denmarsh Gains a Victory Over Powell—Another Challenge.

The boat race between Denmarsh and Powell, which came off over the Monongahela course on Saturday evening, created no little excitement among those who witnessed the contest. Both men had a good record, and an exciting race was looked for. Long before the time of starting the river banks on both sides were lined with people anxious to see the "wielders of the spruces" get a good send off. As is usual on such occasions, there was some delay, and when the men pulled out ready for the start tremendous cheering followed. When the word "go" was given Denmarsh took the lead, but when the Soho boat house was reached Powell came up with his antagonist and shot about ten feet to the front, but he was unable to hold the advantage he had gained. A close contest was witnessed until the buoy was reached, and Denmarsh turning first, led his competitor about five lengths, which he maintained until he reached the starting point. Time—twenty-three minutes.

Powell has issued another challenge to Denmarsh to repeat the race over the same course.

THE PRISON BOARD.

What Was Done on Saturday.

A regular monthly meeting of the Allegheny County Board of Prison Inspectors was held on Saturday, Judge Sterrett in the chair.

A communication from W. E. Russell, Boiler Inspector, notifying the Board of the unsafe condition of the boiler used for heating water in the jail, was referred to the Quarterly Committee with instructions to take such action in the matter as they might deem necessary.

Bills were presented and approved to the amount of $1359.14.

A report from the Quarterly Committee setting forth the number of prisoners received and discharged during the quarter, was received and ordered filed.

The contract for furnishing meat to the county jail for the ensuing six months was awarded to William Peters for 4 49-100 cents per pound.

John Doyle received the contract for furnishing bread for the same length of time at the rate of 2 3-4 cents per pound.

The Quarterly Committee for the ensuing quarter was appointed, as follows: Judge White, Commissioner Murray and Mayor Phillips.

Adjourned.

BROWNSVILLE AVENUE.

The Bond Question—The Mayor Refuses to Sign any More.

The Mayor and the Commissioners, for the improvement of Brownsville avenue, have come to a deadlock on the bond question. The Commissioners want $20,000 more bonds. The Mayor refused to accede to the demand on the ground that he had no definite knowledge of what the contract price was to be; and that the law required him to know the exact contract price, and to issue no amount of bonds in excess of that. To this the commissioners reply that the contract is let at a fixed price per yard, and they cannot tell just what the aggregate amount will be; they also deny that bonds in excess of the limitation of the contract have been issued, and lastly contend that they are the sole judges as to the amount of bonds needed. To this last communication the Mayor replied on Saturday, re-iterating his former statements, that he must know the estimate of the aggregate cost of the work, so that he would know when the limitation of bonds had been reached, as required by law. Hence he refused to issue any more bonds, until he gets this information. And so the matter stands at present.

A STRANGE STORY.

A Young Girl Violently Assaulted.

A strange occurrence came to light on Saturday, in which a young lady about nineteen years of age, who gave her name as Sallie Maloney, alleges that she was assaulted on Friday night. According to her story she has been acting in the capacity of a domestic for some time, and on coming to this place from Wheeling on Friday, she met two young men on the Monongahela wharf, who said they could take her to a house where she could obtain employment. Mounting an express wagon she alleges that they drove her to the Twelfth ward to a secreted spot where they assaulted her in a violent manner. She claims to have gone to the Twelfth ward station after the young men deserted her, where she charged them of assailing her. An officer was sent out at once to look them up, but no trace of their whereabouts could be obtained. The young lady is, to all appearances, unaccustomed to city life, and is neither able to read or write. This matter should have a thorough investigation, and if the charges made are true, the offenders should be brought to speedy punishment.

Petroleum Exports.

The exports of petroleum for Europe from New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore during the week ending June 28, this year, amounted, in crude equivalent, to 110,342 barrels. The amount of charters at these three ports, same date, was 639,090 barrels. This is considerably the largest amount of capacity of vessels chartered for petroleum at any one date this year. The clearances for the week ending July 5th will probably be very heavy. The total exports this year up to June 28th amounted in crude equivalent to 2,560,185 barrels, as against 2,924,127 barrels, same time last year. The amount of refined oil in Philadelphia on June 28 last, was only 28,700 barrels. From the above statistics the forthcoming demand for oil should be very heavy.

Tween you me I dont bleeve that girls got any thinker!

Growth of Western Manufactures.

At Beaver Falls, near the boundary line separating Pennsylvania from Ohio, there is growing up a busy Sheffield in miniature, where axe, table and other cutlery, files, etc., are annually manufactured in large quantities. A cast steel works is being erected. At Salem, Ohio, agricultural implements, stoves, steam engines, and galvanized cornices are largely manufactured. The cornices for the Centennial buildings are being made here. At Alliance, in addition to the rail rolling mill which is now idle and in bankruptcy, there is an extensive and busy manuiactory of steam hammers. Canton is an intensely active manufacturing town. Paper, flour, reapers and mowers, safes and locks, printing presses, cast steel and cutlery are among its products, and some are manufactured in large quantities. Massilon is another busy manufacturing place. In addition to its iron furnaces, it has several manufactories of agricultural implements. At Wooster there are more agricultural works, together with machine shops, foundries, paper, brush and carriage manufactories. At Mansfield agricultural implements are also made. A large car factory is now silent. Lima is a busy little manufacturing place.—Bulletin of American Iron and Steel Association.

A Mother's Darling.

The other afternoon a boy was seen to suddenly shoot out of the door of a house on Locust street, and scramble to the top of a board fence. His mother was just an instant too late to catch him, and, concealing the potato-masher behind her, she looked up to her son with a smile and said:

"Come down, darling."

"Not jess now!" replied the boy, sticking out his tongue at her.

"Come down, dear William, and we'll cut that pie," she continued:

"You can't fool me a cent's worth," he answered, hitching along.

"Won't you drop down here for just a minute?" she pleaded.

"I tell you it's no use!" he exclaimed. "Until I am thoroughly convinced that your intentions are pacific, I shall remain situated at my present secure attitude."

She threw the masher at him, missed, and entered the house to wait for hunger and thirst to bring him down.

THANKS "FROM THE DEPTHS OF THE HEART."

WELLINGTON, Lorain Co., O., Aug. 24, 1874.

DR. R. V. PIERCE, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dear Sir—Your medicines, Golden Medical Discovery, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, have proved of the greatest service to me. Six months ago no one thought that I could possibly live long. I had a complication of diseases,—scrofula, manifesting itself in eruptions and great blotches on my head that made such sores that I could not have my hair combed without causing me much suffering; also causing swollen glands, tonsils enlarged, enlarged or "thick neck," and large and numerous boils. I also suffered from a terrible Chronic Catarrh, and in fact I was so diseased that life was a burden to me. I had tried many doctors with no benefit. I finally procured one-half dozen bottles of your Golden Medical Discovery and one dozen Sage's Catarrh Remedy, and commenced their use. At first I was badly discouraged, but after taking four bottles of the Discovery I began to improve, and when I had taken the remaining I was well. In addition to the use of Discovery I applied a solution of Iodine to the Goitre or thick neck, as you advise in pamphlet wrapping, and it entirely disappeared. Your Discovery is certainly the most wonderful blood medicine ever invented. I thank God and you, from the depths of my heart, for the great good it has done me.

Very respectfully,
MRS. L. SHAFFER.

Most medicines which are advertised as blood purifiers and liver medicines contain either mercury, in some form, or potassium and iodine variously combined. All of these agents have strong tendency to break down the blood corpuscles, and debilitate and otherwise permanently injure the human system, and should therefore be discarded. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, on the other hand, being composed of the fluid extracts of native plants, barks and roots, will in no case produce injury. Its effects being strengthening and curative only. Sarsaparilla, which used to enjoy quite a reputation as a blood purifier, is a remedy of thirty years ago, and may well give place, as it is doing, to the more positive and valuable vegetable alteratives which later medical investigation and discovery has brought to light. In Scrofula or King's Evil, White Swellings, Ulcers, Erysipelas, Swelled Neck, Goitre, Scrofulous Inflammations, Indolent Inflammation, Mercurial affections, Old Sores, Eruptions of the Skin, and Sore Eyes, as in all other blood diseases, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has shown its great remedial powers, curing the most obstinate and intractable cases. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

Three Attainable Blessings.

A good appetite, vigorous digestion and sound sleep are the three blessings that imply a good many more, and are attainable by the daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. The stomach that is invigorated by that ruling tonic rapidly disposes of the food committed to it, and at the proper time craves for more with natural earnestness, and the brain from pain and despondency have banished by that salutary anodyne and cheering cordial, enjoys at the hour of rest that tranquil, dreamless repose for which no other boon that Providence can bestow can compensate. Besides these most desirable results, the entire physique is strengthened and fortified against the attacks of disease by this splendid vitalizer and protective agent, which, take it altogether, is about the most desirable, as it is unquestionably one of the most popular medicines in existence.
